Canoeing River Orlice

A Canoeing Route for All Levels

The Divoká Orlice (Wild Orlice) begins its course near the Polish border above Orlické Záhoří. The upper and middle sections, flowing through forested valleys down to Potštejn, are suited to experienced paddlers and are navigable mainly in spring. The lower section is more accessible even for less experienced canoeists and tends to remain navigable into the summer. Among the most attractive yet more demanding stretches are the Zemská Brána area and the Litice Bend. After the confluence of both branches, the Orlice River becomes navigable all year round and is suitable even for beginners. The riverbanks are lined with sandy beaches and clay banks, ideal for resting. The entire river flows through the Orlice Nature Park, where nature conservation rules must be respected. Kayaking on the Berounka River

Do you know what the undeniable advantage of the Berounka River is? Even a complete beginner can manage a four-day kayaking trip here – and an experienced paddler will enjoy it just as much. Because it's not always about rapids and wild water. The charming Berounka leaves no one unmoved.

Sixty kilometres on the river may sound like a daunting distance – but if you spread the route over four days, you'll find it's easily manageable. And you'll still have plenty of time to discover the most fascinating stories that took place along the river between Zvíkovec and Zadní Třebáň. In the evening, you can roast sausages and sing campfire songs under the stars.

Make sure to book your kayaks in advance from one of the many rental companies operating along the Berounka. The Berounka is one of the rivers in Czechia navigable nearly all year round, in almost any water level.

Wake surf Obříství

Just 30 minutes from Prague, an experience awaits that will pull you into a world of endless waves and jumps. At Wake surf Obříství, you and your colleagues can try one of the best wake surfing spots in Central Bohemia.

No prior experience? No problem – before hitting your first wave, you'll go through a dry-land introduction, a light warm-up, balance board training, and ride practice, all under the guidance of an instructor.

Wake surfing or water skiing – in both cases, the surfer is towed by a rope with a handle. The boat creates waves that the surfer can ride for transitions and jumps. The Malibu boat, one of the few in Czechia capable of generating a so-called "endless wave", allows the surfer to ride behind the boat without a tow rope – just like on the sea.

If adrenaline isn't your thing, you can enjoy a ride on the powerful boat with up to 12 passengers or rent paddleboards and enjoy the calm water.

Fidelio Sightseeing Boat

Cruise along the waters of the Elbe and Vltava aboard a boat with a story to tell. Its history is just as captivating as the journeys it offers, letting you discover the beauty of Central Bohemia from Mělník all the way to Prague.

The history of the Fidelio sightseeing boat dates back to 1928, when it was first launched. It began its life on the waters of Berlin, even served in wartime as part of the 13th landing fleet – though thankfully only as a support vessel, which is why you can still enjoy its services today. In Berlin, it became popular for passenger transport, a role it has stayed true to ever since. In fact, that very loyalty is what it's named after.

Fidelio now calls the confluence of the Elbe and Vltava Rivers its home. On its most popular cruise, it will take you under the Mělník Château and as far as Czech Holland! Fidelio sails through the Vltava navigation canal, passing through a landscape often nicknamed “Czech Netherland.” During this 2-hour cruise, you'll pass through the historic lock at Hořín and catch a glimpse of the legendary Rip Mountain in the distance.

While the boat retains its historic charm, it has been fully renovated, offering a high level of comfort. Fidelio accommodates up to 22 passengers, who can enjoy generous onboard spaces and admire the scenery from the sun deck. Delicious coffee and refreshments are served during the cruise. Below deck, you'll find a lounge, bar, another saloon with a tap, and a toilet.

Cruise on the Hracholusky Reservoir

22 kilometres of unforgettable experiences.

Hracholusky Reservoir, situated on the Mže River about 20 km west of Plzeň, is a popular summer destination thanks to its stunning surroundings and breathtaking views of the water.

These views can be fully enjoyed during scenic cruises aboard a legendary steamboat that has been sailing these waters for generations. Such boat trips offer a range of possibilities, including teambuilding events, social gatherings, or even celebratory evening cruises beneath a starry sky.

On both shores of the reservoir, there are several campsites offering accommodation and opportunities for leisure activities. Among the highlights are water skiing, as well as boat and paddleboard rentals.

The ultimate summer canoeing classic.

The Berounka River is considered a true Czech paddling classic and one of the most accessible rivers for water tourism in the country. Yet despite its approachability, a trip down the Berounka is anything but boring.

It offers a variety of paddling routes – from one-day outings to multi-day adventures of varying lengths.

All routes come with fully equipped support, including boat and gear rentals, and accommodation options at selected campsites near the river. And it doesn't have to end with the river – the surrounding area is rich with interesting places that can enhance any group experience.

You can also take advantage of professional services provided by Dronte, a company offering full-service trips on the Berounka, tailor-made to your preferences. Choose your vessel – from kayak to canoe to nine-person rafts.

Lake Most

Swimming, water sports, running, and cycling at Lake Most are ideal activities if you decide to head north to explore the reclaimed lake landscape.

Lake Most boasts crystal-clear water, a pebbled beach, and sun loungers for hire. It's a perfect spot for non-motorised water sports such as kiting, windsurfing, paddleboarding, canoeing, and rowing – including on dragon boats.

At the main beach, you'll find a rental service for paddleboards and kayaks, a variety of food stalls, and a multi-purpose sandy pitch with goals for ball sports.

A 9 km loop trail surrounds the lake, suitable for both running and cycling. For inline skating, however, we recommend the trail around nearby Lake Matylda, where the path is wider and flatter.
