Archbishop's Palace

The Archbishop's Palace has been the residence of the bishops of Olomouc since its foundation; since 1777, it is the seat of the archbishops. The Archbishop's Residence is an important example of Baroque palace architecture in Moravia. The two-storey building with a richly decorated Neo-Baroque façade and three Baroque portals is arranged around two closed courtyards.

The halls can be used for short-term social and cultural events (receptions, conferences, trainings, graduations, concerts, award ceremonies, gala evenings, etc.) that do not contradict good manners and do not conflict with the ethics of the Church. The arrangement of the furnishings of the rented premises can be adapted to a large extent to the nature of the event. The premises have wheelchair access with a lift. Catering is always provided by an external company.

There are four halls available for hire: the Ceremonial Hall, the Library, the Throne Hall and the Angel Hall.

Ratměřice Chateau - Restaurant Sequoia

The gourmet Sequoia restaurant offers local seasonal dishes at a high gastronomic level. It is perfect for various social events, such as a luxurious lunch or gala dinner. The restaurant is located in the hotel resort of Ratměřice Chateau and its name and symbolism is related to the giant sequoia - a unique coniferous tree. The chateau park next to the restaurant is home to two majestic examples of this tree.

The modern interior of the stylish restaurant has an indoor capacity of 45 seats and an outdoor terrace capacity of 50 seats. In good weather, it is very pleasant to sit on the outdoor terrace or pier by the pond, overlooking the chateau park.

The Sequoia Restaurant focuses on world and Czech cuisine. The main features of the local gastronomy are the ingredients from local suppliers and traditional recipes with a new twist. Chef Petr Hron and his team prepare the menu with sensitivity, care and an emphasis on regional ingredients. The bilingual menu features the main ingredients of the dishes on offer. The presentation and style of service match the luxurious nature of the cuisine. The combination of innovation with local ingredients is proudly represented by the dessert in the shape of a redwood cone called Sequoia, which is renewed with each new menu, offering regulars a new experience every time.

Municipal House

The Municipal House, situated on the site of the original residence of the Czech kings, is a representative venue predestined to host important social events due to its magnificence and decorativeness.

The listed Municipal House in the centre of Prague is one of the most important Art Nouveau buildings in Europe. Since the time of its construction - at the beginning of the 20th century - it was designed as a representative and social house of the capital and its decoration was done by the most important Czech painters and sculptors. Today, the Municipal House is furnished with modern technologies corresponding to the requirements for the highest level of services.

The main space is the Smetana Hall, which can host balls or galas for 450 people or concerts for 1,200 people, followed by representative halls and lounges, exhibition spaces, and important catering facilities. The ground floor houses the Café and Restaurant, while the basement houses the Pilsner Beer Hall, Wine Bar and Tretter's American Bar. These spaces can host events for up to 1,500 people and the Municipal House has been and remains a refined meeting place for Prague's domestic and international visitors.

National House in Vinohrady

The Renaissance building of the National House in Vinohrady is renowned as a place of cultural and social life. Its location with good accessibility in the centre of Prague makes it an ideal place for social, cultural and educational events. Proms, galas and conferences are often held here.

The premises of the three-winged building built in 1894 offer three halls and four lounges. The largest and most beautiful of the halls - Mayakovsky Hall - can accommodate 700 visitors. It is sumptuously decorated, with a frescoed ceiling and magnificent chandeliers. The other two halls of smaller capacity - the Rais and the Social Halls - are also decorated with many elegant elements and each of them forms a complete work of art. Four lounges on two floors, with a total capacity of over 200 people, are suitable for private group meetings.

Since its opening, the National House has become the centre of Prague's social life, nicknamed the "Vinohrady City Salon", and has witnessed many groundbreaking events of historical significance in Prague and nationwide. Nowadays it is no longer just the centre of Vinohrady, but thanks to its modern technological facilities it is an equal competitor to all the great social establishments of Central Europe.

Sacre Coeur Chapel

Just a few steps from the border of the old Prague districts of Smíchov and Újezd is the deconsecrated Neo-Gothic chapel of the Sacre Coeur Monastery. It is a space that enchants with an atmosphere of spiritual past, mystery and grandeur, and at the same time with the potential of new audiovisual technologies offered to the organisers of social events.

The convent with a church and an educational institute for girls from noble families was built at the end of the 19th century by the French Congregation of the Sacred Heart of the Lord. Today, the complex is a cultural monument and has served other than its original purpose for almost 100 years.

The Sacre Coeur facilities include a main nave of approx. 210 m<sup>2</sup>, a side hall of approx. 86 m<sup>2</sup>, adjacent corridors of approx. 300 m<sup>2</sup> and a courtyard of approx. 600 m<sup>2</sup>. The capacity of this venue allows for a variety of social events for up to 500 people. In addition, thanks to the state-of-the-art audiovisual technology and technical facilities, Sacre Coeur offers almost unlimited variability in the form and programme of the event.

Ferdinand Spring Colonnade

The oldest preserved Classicist building in Mariánské Lázně.

Although Ferdinand's Spring is not very appealing in terms of taste, the colonnade itself and the environment in which it springs is an electrifying, enchanting, simply breathtaking place. That's why several interesting events take place here every year (miniKOK cultural recovery festival, Čajokrásno, International Yoga Day, etc.), regular pétanque tournaments, and it is often the place for wedding ceremonies and picnics. The architecturally beautiful colonnade is surrounded by the rustling of trees, the singing of birds, peace and harmony.

Ferdinand's Spring is freely available to the public during the high season (May-October). From October to April (winter season) it is covered.

Restaurant Větruše

The pleasant restaurant of the Větruše Hotel, which towers over the Elbe River with a beautiful view, will undoubtedly be one of the top places for a successful gala dinner.

A gala dinner can be arranged in the restaurant and the hall, which is in the original part of the castle and can accommodate twice as many people as the restaurant. The Větruše Hotel restaurant has been renowned for more than a decade for its excellent cuisine, especially the award-winning beef fillet or veal schnitzel on the plate.

Dishes are prepared following seasonality and local foods, and can be paired with wines.

Restaurant Garden

Elegant, modern, airy, sunny - these are the qualities that clearly define the Garden Restaurant in the Wellness Hotel Monopol.

Restaurant Garden is the second restaurant of the Wellness Hotel Pivovar Monopol in Teplice. The unique atmosphere is created by the glass part of the ceiling and glass walls, which bring natural light into the interior. There is also an outdoor terrace for pleasant seating overlooking the magnificent St. Bartholomew's Church. The lobby can also be used as a separate salon.

Ulrika restaurant hall

The restaurant's luxurious hall is located on the 1st floor of the Johann W winery and offers a romantic view of Hazmburk Castle and the adjacent vineyards.

These festive spaces are perfect for gala evenings, weddings, receptions, parties and other events. The restaurant has a pleasant terrace. The entire hall has a splendid, chateau-like feel.

Before entering the hall, you will pass through a spacious lobby, where a welcome drink or an introductory cocktail can take place. As this is a winery, wine pairing or a cellar tour as part of the accompanying programme is a must.

Guests can also use the Men's Cigar Lounge.
