Experience the magic of Hussite history in Tábor

Enjoy the atmosphere of the Hussite Wars for yourself in the Hussite town of Tábor. Housův Mill specialises in creating period programmes for groups.

Housův Mill is a historic building in the heart of the historic town of Tábor. The basic offer includes 8 different themes in several variants. These include "Life at a South Bohemian Mill" - this programme encourages a competitive spirit between teams. Actors recreate the hustle and bustle of a mill and a music band with an old-fashioned repertoire provides a cheerful ambiance. A mediaeval feast is also another option. Making paper by hand

In a picturesque part of the Ještěd Ridge, in the town of Zdislava, you'll find a Papyrea, a small family-run handmade paper mill.

You'll feel as though time has stood still when you visit this family-owned factory. Paper is made here using historical techniques, by floating a pulp made from native plant fibres, such as flax, hemp or cotton, and also fibres from unusual materials such as sisal, nettles or horse manure, onto screens. In addition to a tour and commentary by the paper workers here, you will also be able to tour the entire process of making paper by hand and try pressing, drying or embossing paper using old stamps during team-building activities or workshops.

In the world of animation

International Festival of Animated Films. That's the best way to describe Anifilm, which has been held in Liberec in North Bohemia for five years now. The event, the most important of its kind in Central Europe and the only international competitive festival centred around animated film in Czechia, presents hot news from the animated film world every year.

The festival also offers animation students and others who want to improve their puppet animation skills a unique opportunity to take part in intensive workshops. In cooperation with the Czech Invest agency, Anifilm is preparing a series of workshops dedicated to entrepreneurship in the video game industry. Under the guidance of experienced experts, the participants will focus on legal aspects and marketing in the gaming industry, business development and, last but not least, the art of effectively presenting their own project to potential investors.

Modern art in a former factory

In the foothills of the Jizera Mountains lies the Nisa Factory, the largest private gallery of modern art in North Bohemia, which has found a home in a former factory.

Promoting local traditional crafts and creative learning is also an important aspect. At the Nisa Factory you can try out a range of tailor-made programmes and workshops in the glass workshop and art studio. They'll show you how things go at the glass furnace, while you can try working with glass and shaping it to make a piece of jewellery or a glass object. They also encourage new talent interested in science and technology. To this end, they have decided to convert part of the factory building into a technology hub. This space is designed not only for education, through lectures and workshops with experts, but also as a place for the rising generation to implement their own projects. You can learn about how to use 3D printing when designing contemporary jewellery or design and produce your own collection under the name Circulum.

Salon of wines

There are chateaus where they offer jousting.

At Valtice Chateau, they serve up the best wines from the whole country. The perfectly restored chateau cellar is the most beautiful backdrop for a hundred of Czechia's best wines each season.

You can enjoy the dignified atmosphere at the tasting all year round, except for January. Choose a tasting programme to suit you. An experienced sommelier will be happy to guide you through the amazing local wine collection. (It's better to book a guided tasting in advance so they count on you.) Or would you rather taste the samples yourself at your own pace during a 120-minute free tasting session?

The Wine Salon also has an educational exhibition dedicated to winemaking, while the shop sells sommelier tools and much more.

And before or after the tasting, we recommend a walk through the beautiful chateau park and a tour of the chateau itself. The luxurious baroque and rococo interiors will put you in a truly royal mood.

Indigo dyeing in Strážnice

Indigo dyeing was brought to our lands from the Far East. Today, it is a rare traditional craft. It evokes folk culture and can only be seen in two places in Czechia.

The indigo dyeing workshop in Strážnice in Moravian Slovakia is one of the last in Czechia that meets the conditions and can produce blueprints. It was founded by the Joch family in 1906, and now, amongst the bolts of fabric, litres of indigo paint and special moulds, you'll be welcomed by the fifth generation to have devoted so much love to this beautiful craft.

During the tour, they'll show you the production process and you'll be able to print your own design and leave with a unique canvas that will become the highlight of your wardrobe.

You can try printing using old moulds, as well as screen-printing or brush painting.

The traditional indigo dyeing technology was included in the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage List in 2018, and the second place where you can admire the master dyers is the Danzinger family workshop in Olešnice.

Graffiti workshop in Prague

The graffiti workshop is an opportunity to delve into the culture and history of this global urban phenomenon. Experienced street art artists will guide the group through the complete process from idea through design to implementation. The graffiti workshop is a fun and interactive team activity.

At the beginning of the workshop, graffiti instructors will discuss their creative ideas with the participants and then transfer them to paper. They'll explain the history of graffiti, its local specifics and the most popular styles (straight letters, bubble letters, block and wildstyle). The whole team will work on the design (graffiti sketch) until everyone is happy with it. The instructor will show the participants how to use professional graffiti sprays and what type of nozzles to use to achieve the desired effect. The group will then work together to transfer their design to the wall, assisted by the instructor.

Painting is done on a legal wall in a public space, but clients can also choose to graffiti their own wall. All members of the group will be provided with protective masks, gloves and face masks, different types of nozzles, markers and sketch papers, and after the workshop, they'll receive photos or short videos from the workshop.

Discover how Christmas decorations are made

Wondering how a Christmas ornament is born? Or would you prefer to create something and give your loved ones a handmade Christmas bauble?

HAN Design creates decorated and undecorated collections of handmade glass Christmas decorations for you. The great thing is that they can invite you behind the scenes. Come and see and discover the journey that each of their ornaments takes to reach the tree. From blowing, to decorating, to packing for the journey to your home. And if you want, you can decorate your own bauble after the tour. Just make an appointment in advance when booking your excursion. Excursions and workshops take place on weekdays only from 8:00 to 12:00.

House under the Ash Tree

The House under the Ash Tree is the epitome of "slow tourism" - experiences, an individual approach, the opportunity to try out the tools, and a guide who understands the craft he or she is demonstrating.

The craft workshop is open to everyone interested in folk crafts, handicrafts and making things together. In the summer it provides pleasant shade as you work, while in the rain it offers a programme for the whole family, a group of friends or team building with colleagues, then in the winter the stove warms you up as you work. The House under the Ash Tree runs a weaving and art workshop, where they organise events focused on folk crafts and hold courses in craft and art techniques, including retraining courses.

Fort Křelov XVII

Fort Křelov XVII is a polygonal permanent built between 1851 and 1854. It is one of the first four fortresses (together with forts XI, XIII and XV), which were gradually built to the west and southwest of the Olomouc fortress from 1850. Fort Křelov XVII offers visitors a museum, a restaurant, a shooting range, accommodation, the fortress print works, a forge, a mint, a cinematography exhibition and a projection hall. The defensive fortress in Křelov is an ideal place for a Sunday trip with the family, a company event, team building session or a wedding.

The premises are suitable for team building programmes for groups of up to 300 people. We use an extensive system of casemates located on two underground floors under the fortress ramparts. Other activities are organised in the courtyard, on the fortress ramparts, in the surrounding meadows and in the nearby forest.

Workshops can also be held focused on blacksmithing, minting, book-printing and weaving.

Fortress of Knowledge Olomouc

This historically unique building used to serve as an artillery storehouse during the reign of Franz Joseph I, but in 2015 it was transformed into an interactive science museum for all ages.

The team's exceptional programmes include: Travelling workshops and science shows

Discover the mysterious world of science together with expert lecturers who are also students of Palacký University in Olomouc! The workshops involve round-table activities, which each visitor can try on their own. During the workshop, the lecturer is there to introduce all the activities to the visitors, help them carry them out and explain the scientific aspects.

You can book workshops in physics, chemistry or biology, try 3D printing and enjoy an art workshop, while everything can be accompanied by a Science Show.

Haná Open-air Museum

The Haná Open-air Museum collects, preserves, professionally processes and presents a collection of materials especially documenting the history of traditional folk culture, households, folk clothing, crafts and agriculture. The collection dates from the late 18th to the mid-20th century. The collecting and research area is the northern part of the ethnographic region of Haná including its close surroundings (Litovelsko, Olomoucko, Přerovsko, Prostějovsko, Konicko, Mohelnicko, Uničovsko and Šternbersko). The museum collection is centred around the Litovel and Olomouc regions.

Historical brick-making

Workshop activities include the traditional production of unfired bricks. Both larger and smaller groups can arrange to enjoy a session making adobe bricks, which used to be a very popular building material in Haná.

Film Kromeriz

Few Moravian towns have seen as many film crews as Kroměříž.

Miloš Forman filmed the famous Oscar-winning film Amadeus there, and Filip Renč shot Requiem for a Maiden. The Archbishop's Palace became the residence of the King and Princess Aneta in the popular fairy tale Hell with the Princess, and its interiors and the exteriors of the adjacent Chateau Garden could also be seen in the successful co-production miniseries Maria Theresia. Several scenes of the sequel to the film Inheritance with Bolek Polívka were filmed on Velké náměstí and on the grounds of the Psychiatric Hospital. The beauty of the Flower Garden enchanted the creators of the series I, Mattoni. The scenery in Kroměříž is simply magical. And you can walk around the places that have appeared in the films and TV series.

A walk-through film Kroměříž is a real treat for movie buffs. You can pick up a brochure with a detailed list of films and series at the information centre next to the town hall.
